

Harding Starts His Southern Trip To-day

On Wednesday He Will Be Guest of Birmingham at City's Semi-Centennial
Anniversary Celebration

To Get College Degree

Thursday Afternoon President
Will Speak at Grady
Monument in Atlanta

From The Tribune's Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—President Harding leaves the White House to-day for a three days' stay, returning here Friday noon. Accompanied by Mrs. Harding and a small party, he will leave for Birmingham at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning. The trip will be made on a special train. The committee of arrangements in Birmingham and Atlanta have planned a strenuous program of speeches, exercises, receiving of honorary degrees and sight-seeing. It is the first trip the President has made into Southern territory since his inauguration.

The visit to Birmingham is in honor of the semi-centennial anniversary of the founding of the city. There the President will make his first address prepared for the trip. It is planned to arrive in Birmingham at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. There will be a parade, in which the President will also participate. He will be a luncheon guest at which Senator Underwood, of Alabama, will present him. In the afternoon he will attend the inaugural ceremonies of Birmingham College and will be at the city hall to receive the keys to the city. He will also attend an industrial exhibit.

The Presidential party will leave Birmingham at midnight Wednesday and stop at Camp Benning, Ga., the next morning. The President will inspect the infantry officers' school and then proceed to Atlanta. The President will spend the afternoon in Atlanta, take part in a parade, deliver an address at the Grady Monument and board the train for the return trip to the capital at 4 o'clock Thursday night. He plans to be at his desk by 11:30 o'clock Friday morning.

Accompanying the President will be Mr. Harding, Senator and Mrs. Underwood, Secretary of War Weeks, Secretary of the Interior Fall, Secretary of the President George B. Christian Jr., Brigadier General C. E. Sawyer, Colonel G. S. Sherrill and Captain Ralston N. Holmes, the Executive's military and naval aides, respectively.

Oil Refuse Hearing To-day

From The Tribune's Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Dock Committee hearings on the oil refuse bill will continue to-day. The committee will hear witnesses from New York and New Jersey who will appear to-morrow before the House Committee on Rivers and Harbors to urge favorable report of the bill making it illegal to pollute navigable waters by refuse oil.

William A. Stevens, New Jersey State Senator, Clarence J. Houseman, Mayor of Newark, N. J., William C. Wilson, Mayor of Perth Amboy, N. J., Edward Roche, representing the Far Rockaway, N. Y., Board of Trade; Frederick C. Hickman, representing the New York Fish and Game Association, the New York Board of Fire Underwriters, the American Game Protective Association and the Fish and Game Association; and Dr. James William Marshall, vice-president of the Ocean Grove Camp Meeting Association.

Russians Freed by Harding
Going Home at Comrades' Cost
Jacob Aarons, Hyman Lachowsky and Samuel Lipman, three Russians released from the Federal prison at Atlanta by President Harding on condition that they depart for Russia at their own expense, arrived yesterday at Ellis Island. Mollie Steiner, released on the same condition from the Missouri state prison at Jefferson City, Mo., will leave that institution to-day for New York.

The four Russians distributed leaflets protesting against military intervention by the United States in Russia. Harry Weisberger, attorney for the quartet, said last night that funds to pay the passage of his clients to Russia are being raised by the Political Prisoner Defense and Relief Committee, 87 Broadway. The Russians must sail within a week.

Government Hits Injunction

Against 24 Cement Dealers
CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—A suit in equity to enjoin the Midwest Cement, Credit and Statistical Bureau from "keeping up an unlawful combination and conspiracy in restraint of interstate trade in commerce in cement" was filed in the Federal Court to-day by the government. Twenty-four firms are named as defendants. The defendants operate thirty mills in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri and Kentucky.

"Ninety per cent of the cement used in the Middle West is manufactured by the defendants," Assistant United States District Attorney Milroy said, "while their output is one-third of all the cement manufactured in the United States."

To Get

Borden's Grade A Milk

Just phone

Cortlandt 7961.

Ask for the Service

Department, and place

your order, it will be put into immediate operation.

Borden's

Farm Products Co., Inc.

Cortlandt 7961.

REST YOUR TIRED FEET.

ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE, the antiseptic powder to be shaken into the shoes gives the pain of corns and bunions, and gives quick relief to sweating, itching, tired, aching, tender feet, blisters and sore spots. It keeps the feet cool and comfortable. Shocking workings away twice as long when you

Cordelia Biddle Duke's Divorce Decree Signed

Court Upholds Cruelty Charge and Frees Her From Son of Tobacco King

Special Dispatch to The Tribune
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—A final decree in divorce was handed down to
Mrs. Cordelia Biddle Duke, formerly Cordelia Biddle, daughter of Major and Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, against Angier B. Duke, in Common Pleas
Court No. 1 to-day.

Mrs. Duke charged cruelty in the suit, which was not contested when before a master. The master filed a report recommending the decree, which was approved by the court and signed to-day by Judges Patterson and Shoemaker.

Mrs. Duke started suit against her husband, who is the son of the tobacco king, July 16. They were married in this city in April, 1915, and have two sons.

Townley and Aid

Denied an Appeal;

Must Go to Jail

U. S. Supreme Court Refuses to Review Conviction of

Nonpartisan League Leaders

for Urging Disloyalty

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The Supreme Court to-day refused a petition of A. C. Townley and Joseph Gilbert, president and manager, respectively, of the Nonpartisan League, for review of their conviction before Minnesota State Court on charges growing out of their activities in opposition to the war.

The refusal of the court to consider the case was announced by Chief Justice Taft, who gave no explanation.

The indictment against Townley and Gilbert were convicted charged that they opposed military enlistments, urged that the government be not assisted in carrying on the war, or in the sale of Liberty bonds, claiming the bonds were not safe investment because "the United States soon would be bankrupt."

The indictment sought from the court a writ of certiorari to the Supreme Court of Minnesota which would have ordered all the papers in the case here for review.

The Nonpartisan League is interested in a second case on the Supreme Court docket, involving validity of the North Dakota law regulating grain elevators within the state. The lower courts held the state legislation to be in conflict with Federal statutes and a restraint upon interstate commerce.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 24.—Townley and Gilbert must serve a sentence of ninety days in the Jackson County (Minnesota) jail as a result of the Supreme Court's ruling. They were convicted in July, 1919, of conspiracy to encourage disloyalty during the war.

Gilbert, prior to his conviction in Jackson County, was found guilty by the Goodhue County (Minnesota) District Court of violation of the state espionage act, and, after exhausting all avenues of appeal, went to jail in Red Wing last February to serve a sentence of one year.

Girl Who Shocked Atlantic City

Beach Escapes From Asylum

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 24.—Word was received from Trenton to-day that Louise Rosine Johnson, erstwhile California writer, who created a scene on the beach last summer when ordered to roll up her stockings, had escaped from the state insane asylum.

Appearing on the beach in a one-piece suit and carrying a bag, she was seen in the morning. She was ordered to "roll 'em up" or leave the beach. She refused to do either and handed a policeman several still rights and lefts to the city hall.

Arriving at the city hall, she still further shocked the modesty of the police by completely disrobing. Three days later she was declared mentally unbalanced and sent to the state institution.

Citizenship for All Indians

To Be Discussed in Convention

DETROIT, Oct. 24.—Abolition of the United States Indian Bureau and the granting of full citizenship to all American Indians will be the chief subjects considered at the Twentieth annual convention of American Indians to be held here October 25 to 31.

Delegates from each of the five hundred Indian tribes and others of the race who have become prominent figures in American life are expected to attend. The pipe of peace will be smoked by the Indians and the city officials at the opening session. On Saturday a native fete day will be observed.

Year-Old Baby Is Found

Deserted in a Hotel Room

An abandoned child, about one year old, was discovered in room 109, on the fourth floor of the Hotel Seaboard, at 203 West Forty-third Street, last night. The room had been assigned to a middle-aged couple who registered as "Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, of Albany."

They checked out, according to the clerk, about 8 o'clock. An hour later a chamber maid heard a child crying in the room and opened it with a pass key. The baby, cheaply dressed, was found lying on the bed. The police were notified and the infant was sent to Bellevue Hospital.

Jerome, at

Hylan's Door,

Flays Police

(Continued from page one)

opportunities Bill Devery missed

Part of Mr. Jerome's speech follows:

"Honest John" Feels Good

"When I was in politics once they had a saying, handed down from the fathers, that people do not squeal unless they are hurt."

"When I came to read 'Honest John's' lucubration Saturday night, it seemed to me it must have got under his hide. It was awfully unkind of him to forget to mention who it was that was going to deliver this $2,000. The other day I went up to headquarters, and said, 'Henry Curran, where is that $2,000 that I was to get for Saturday night?'"

"I did not get it, and it was awfully unkind of him to forget to mention who it was that was going to deliver this $2,000. The other day I went up to headquarters, and said, 'Henry Curran, where is that $2,000 that I was to get for Saturday night?'"

"I did not get it, and it was awfully unkind of him to forget to mention who it was that was going to deliver this $2,000. The other day I went up to headquarters, and said, 'Henry Curran, where is that $2,000 that I was to get for Saturday night?'"

"I did not get it, and it was awfully unkind of him to forget to mention who it was that was going to deliver this $2,000. The other day I went up to headquarters, and said, 'Henry Curran, where is that $2,000 that I was to get for Saturday night?'"

"I did not get it, and it was awfully unkind of him to forget to mention who it was that was going to deliver this $2,000. The other day I went up to headquarters, and said, 'Henry Curran, where is that $2,000 that I was to get for Saturday night?'"

"I did not get it, and it was awfully unkind of him to forget to mention who it was that was going to deliver this $2,000. The other day I went up to headquarters, and said, 'Henry Curran, where is that $2,000 that I was to get for Saturday night?'"

"I did not get it, and it was awfully unkind of him to forget to mention who it was that was going to deliver this $2,000. The other day I went up to headquarters, and said, 'Henry Curran, where is that $2,000 that I was to get for Saturday night?'"

"I did not get it, and it was awfully unkind of him to forget to mention who it was that was going to deliver this $2,000. The other day I went up to headquarters, and said, 'Henry Curran, where is that $2,000 that I was to get for Saturday night?'"

"I did not get it, and it was awfully unkind of him to forget to mention who it was that was going to deliver this $2,000. The other day I went up to headquarters, and said, 'Henry Curran, where is that $2,000 that I was to get for Saturday night?'"

"I did not get it, and it was awfully unkind of him to forget to mention who it was that was going to deliver this $2,000. The other day I went up to headquarters, and said, 'Henry Curran, where is that $2,000 that I was to get for Saturday night?'"

"I did not get it, and it was awfully unkind of him to forget to mention who it was that was going to deliver this $2,000. The other day I went up to headquarters, and said, 'Henry Curran, where is that $2,000 that I was to get for Saturday night?'"

"I did not get it, and it was awfully unkind of him to forget to mention who it was that was going to deliver this $2,000. The other day I went up to headquarters, and said, 'Henry Curran, where is that $2,000 that I was to get for Saturday night?'"

"I did not get it, and it was awfully unkind of him to forget to mention who it was that was going to deliver this $2,000. The other day I went up to headquarters, and said, 'Henry Curran, where is that $2,000 that I was to get for Saturday night?'"

"I did not get it, and it was awfully unkind of him to forget to mention who it was that was going to deliver this $2,000. The other day I went up to headquarters, and said, 'Henry Curran, where is that $2,000 that I was to get for Saturday night?'"

"I did not get it, and it was awfully unkind of him to forget to mention who it was that was going to deliver this $2,000. The other day I went up to headquarters, and said, 'Henry Curran, where is that $2,000 that I was to get for Saturday night?'"

"I did not get it, and it was awfully unkind of him to forget to mention who it was that was going to deliver this $2,000. The other day I went up to headquarters, and said, 'Henry Curran, where is that $2,000 that I was to get for Saturday night?'"

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city.

Case of Costigan

"Now, Costigan had been in season and out of season running down vice and crime, and when Enright came in he had the power to demote Costigan, and he demoted Costigan with no explanation. No adequate explanation at all has been given to the City of New York why that was done. Now, remember the drunken loafer Tighe, now in Sing Sing, who got reprimanded, and the decent sergeant who told my friend Harris to go back where he belonged, got twenty days. Dan Costigan is demoted."

"I want to contrast that little story with the story of a certain Sergeant Ezekiel Keller. I always remember the story of the old lady who said, 'This name, who used to say that she just used to love to hear her pastor say the word Mesopotamia, because it sounded so well and there is something about the name Ezekiel Keller that stands for the old-fashioned stuff. It always reminds me of that honest, upstanding sergeant of police, getting no recognition year after year from the Police Department, but quietly doing his duty and teaching the young fellows to do their duty. It was awfully unkind of him to forget to mention who it was that was going to deliver this $2,000. The other day I went up to headquarters, and said, 'Henry Curran, where is that $2,000 that I was to get for Saturday night?'"

"Well, the day of the Liberty Day parade Ezekiel Keller was stationed at Forty-second Street and Fifth Avenue, line right up to the curb. And one Harris, a millionaire Special Agent in Police Commissioner—and have you ever noticed how this Police Department is governed by this man of the plain people, this honest John, who is poor, by Honest John, is filled by police deputies all millionaires?"

Police Deputy Breaks Lines

"According to the testimony, Mr. Harris rode right up and flashed his badge on this Ezekiel Keller, and when he got up to Ezekiel at this Forty-second Street crossing where we were all standing—we of the proletariat all standing—waiting for the proper signal to go across and then Mr. Harris, Special Deputy Police Commissioner, said to Ezekiel he wanted to go across. 'You can't go across,' I am qualified to testify. 'I am a commissioner, a Deputy Police Commissioner.' 'Then you ought to know better,' says Ezekiel, and he put him back, and they brought charges against him for that."

"If he had had a red blood running in his veins at all, and mind you, knowing that he was not an official police officer, he should have said, 'You are right, Sergeant,' and he should have reported him for promotion or commendation at least, but instead of that he brings charges against him. So Ezekiel is convicted on Harris's testimony."

"Hear this plaint of the special deputy millionaire Police Commissioner—oh, this is good stuff. This is an extract from Harris's testimony at headquarters on the trial of Ezekiel: 'And he didn't let me through until the line was open, and then I went with the other pedestrians across Forty-second Street.' Oh, infinite humiliation, that he should have rolled around as Deputy Police Commissioner, flashing his badge on the subway guards, when you and I are on line. Oh, the humiliation of it—that he should have to go across with the other pedestrians!"

"There is a curious feature about this. It appears that in certain testimony of Harris's, and I am quoting this, this is a peach."

"Harris assigned, had assigned, an automobile to Richard Enright, Esq., and Richard Enright, Esq., under oath, testifies as follows: 'Q. And he, Harris, has not given it to you?' 'Not yet, he would have given it to me if I wanted it. I told him I would discuss that with him after I got through with the office, and this is some time away.' That is a picture, a picture of this drunken loafer being reprimanded, slapped on the wrist, who was drunk at a quarter to 3 in the morning when he should have been protecting your homes over here in Brooklyn. And this grizzly old sergeant getting twenty days because he did his duty towards this fellow Harris."

"Now the second little story—little story No. 2, which concerns two inspectors, one inspector and a former

inspector of police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."

Inspector of Police. When Enright came in there was a fellow by the name of Costigan, a rough, upright, brave Irishman, and he was an inspector of police who told me one of the chief pillars of crime in this city."